The biggest difference between these two websites is quality. VirtualStripperHD.net is the finest collection of virtual strippers so we strippers guarantee you the greatest of quality when it comes to sexy babes stripping and dancing to any type of music! This could be the story of a guy who finds an error message on a website that implies it's able to retrieve a list of viruses you've encountered and (as it's users) this guy begins the process of visiting every site on this list to see if it was after all a false alarm. But of course, no guy would actually do this because the end result would be bad. Because they don't know. So, this guy does what any rational thinking guy would do: Find out what's going on, and if it's right, do something about it! But this guy is a bit... strange. So rather than visiting every site, he's got more of a cookie jar approach: every site he visits (usually with a browser plugin), he saves a cookie from, and each time he visits a site, he returns to that cookie and pulls out all the cookies he saved. Over time, his list starts to build and the number of sites on that list, which he doesn't even know what they are, is completely beyond his comprehension. (You can find this list on our blog if you want to do the same thing with yourself!) He thought maybe his browser was caching the stuff, so he purged it, and reloaded, but that didn't do the trick. So, he decided to give some of the sites he used on the list a shot. And there, he found some things that, while they weren't his fault, actually were pretty interesting. It seems that when the browser's doing its thing, it saves a bunch of stuff, but it also has a cache of stuff to hand back to the server. And what the server sends back is a bunch of data that it's caching to save bandwidth. So, he typed them in to see what kind of results he got back. And he discovered that some of these sites actually have cookies that are attached to them. And, since they're saved on the server, they don't actually have to be sent over. So, it's like they're just sitting there. Waiting. When he tried to visit these sites, he found out that these sites DO work, and all he needed to do was to disable the 82157476af
